

YES, JANE ALTON IS NOW QUALIFIED TO TEACH THE CONNAISSANCE SCHOOL'S FOUNDATION COURSE IN NUMEROLOGY

The Connaissance School of Numerology teaches a unique approach to Numerology, developing intuition based on numbers. This training is valuable to anyone who is interested in healing, business, personal relationships, career choices and everyday life decisions.

We use numbers every day, they are very useful tools and to a certain extent they can define our lives i.e. our dress size, our age, how much money we have etc. But, numbers are actually sacred symbols, representing energies and cycles. This Numerology course gives you the opportunity to look at numbers and your life in a whole new way.

You don't need any specific qualifications to complete this course and I am planning to run these courses at my home in Paddock Wood (near Tonbridge in Kent), but I can be flexible with regard to this.

Attendance is either 1 weekend a month for 3 months or 1 week intensive.
Please contact me if you would like more information.

2013 & 2014

The challenge throughout 2013 has been to find the harmony within and the challenge for 2014 will be more spiritual. There is the potential for a birth in consciousness. The challenge will be to learn from what has gone before. There may be great sensitivity and it is about the journey from the head to the heart. The truth will prevail ...

Reflections on Dr Who's 50th Anniversary in 2013 ...

I realise that I'm a bit late with this but you may be interested to know that TARDIS (Time And Relative Dimension In Space) is a 26/ 8 in Numerology and this represents Lord Karma, achieving success to help 'the little people' and changing patterns that will otherwise go on forever. The challenge for us all this year (2013) is a 24/ 6, which represents 'Harmony in time and Space'. This 50th anniversary (50) represents change after a great deal of reflection, 5 being the one number (or vibration) that can rise to the higher mind just something to reflect on ...

Reflections on Beyoncé, Jay Z and the power of the Number 4

When Jay Z announced that he and Beyoncé would follow a vegan diet for 22 days as part of a "spiritual and physical cleanse," he noted the significance of that seemingly random time span.

"There's something spiritual to me about it being my 44th birthday and the serendipity behind the number of days in this challenge; 22 (2+2=4) coupled with the fact that the challenge ends on Christmas day ... It just feels right!" he wrote on his website, Life + Times.

Bey and Jay have long voiced their obsession with the number 4, which has been a recurring motif throughout their lives, as seen in their birthdays, wedding date and even the name of their firstborn. In fact, it's hard not to notice how the release date of Bey's new album – the 13th of December – adds up: 1+3=4.

The number 4 represents being stable, practical, systematic and grounded. The 4 is all about building viable structures, it's about standing back from ideas and deciding what is viable and what is practical. The 4 is one of the most creative numbers but can get so caught up with holding it all together for others that there can be inner conflict. The 4 can be very strong and determined and can hang on to things, the 4 finds it hard to let go. Ultimately the 4 is about building the inner temple, rather than focussing on securing the structures on the outside for others.

Beyoncé and Jaz-Z were both born on the 4th and were married on the 4th of April this means that the starting point for both of them is security and stability and the gift that comes from their marriage is great security and stability, the first goal of their marriage is also a 44/ 8 which is about survival, so things may not seem to touch them and they can give others the tools to survive also. The essence of Beyoncé's personality is a 40/4, this makes her a builder by nature, so in a very methodical way, she puts things together and makes them work. They both have a 14/5 mission in this lifetime, this makes them both messengers, structured communicators, the 14/ 5 is about action through structure i.e. building a structure and then finding freedom through this structure. With a 14/ 5 mission both can also be very unsettled, wanting freedom, but needing security and stability also. Both also have a 4 lesson, which is all about working in a systematic way, focussing on one step at a time. 49/ 13/ 4 also features strongly in Beyoncé's journey, 49/ 13/ 4 represents transformation, building something from nothing and turning things around, very much to show others how this is done. Potentially they may build a great deal together, not just for themselves, but to help others.
